Education Resources Information Center (ERIC)

What is the ERIC?
The ERIC (Education Resources Information Center) is a bibliographic database sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education to provide extensive access to educational-related literature. ERIC provides ready access to education literature to augment American education by increasing and facilitating the use of educational research and information to improve practice in learning, teaching, educational decision-making, and research. ERIC provides coverage of journal articles, conferences, meetings, government documents, theses, dissertations, reports, audiovisual media, bibliographies, directories, books and monographs. Many of the items are available in full text.

Accessing ERIC
ERIC is accessed via the E-resources Guide.
1. To open the E-resources Guide, go to: http://subjectguides.york.ac.uk/e-resources
2. When the E-resources guide has opened select the E-F tab from the A-Z list at the top of the screen. An alphabetical list of resources is then displayed.
3. Click on the ERIC (EBSCO). You may be asked to log in with your IT Services username and password. The resource will now open in a new window.
4. A list of databases available to you via the EBSCO service will be displayed. Select ERIC and click on Continue.

Searching ERIC
ERIC has two search options Basic Search and Advanced Search, we recommend that you use the Advanced Search.

As you type a list of predictive terms will appear, be aware that these are not related to the controlled language terms (thesaurus/subject) so may not be useful to you.
Viewing your search results
Your results will display as a list of references:

Print, saving and emailing your results

Search tips
And combines search terms so that each search result contains all of the terms. For example, coeducation and school finds results that contain both terms.

Or combines search terms so that each search result contains at least one of the terms. For example, teenager or adolescent finds results that contain either term.

Wildcard (?): use an question mark to replace a single letter anywhere in a word, except the first character. Wildcards are particularly useful for finding variations in spelling, for example wom?n finds results that contain either woman or women.

Truncation (): use an asterisk to truncate a word and find all the words made by adding letters to the end of it. For example, polic finds results that contain the terms policy or policies or policed etc.

On screen help is available by clicking Help (in the top right hand corner of the screen).
