Online Information Resources for Archaeological Research

Kirsty Whitehead
lib-archaeology@york.ac.uk

University of York Webpages:

http://subjectguides.york.ac.uk/archaeology This is the place where you will find all the information on the resources that we have at York. You can link directly to the electronic archaeology resources from the third tab. These include full-text resources such as JSTOR, PubMed and Science Direct, along with specialist subject indexes such as Anthropological Index Online, BIAB, British Humanities Index etc.

http://subjectguides.york.ac.uk/e-resources This link takes you to a list of the Library’s collection of electronic resources. This is particularly useful if you wish to search around your topic for resources from other subject areas.

http://yorsearch.york.ac.uk/ This is the link to the Library’s search tool YorSearch. You can access YorSearch wherever you have an internet connection. YorSearch can also be used to access the Library’s full text electronic journal collection.

http://www.york.ac.uk/library/services/interlendinganddocumentsupply/ This link gives information about the Library’s inter-lending service which allows you to access materials from other institutions.

http://www.york.ac.uk/library/libraries/ukuniversitylibraries/#sconul The SCONUL Access scheme allows you to visit and borrow materials from other academic libraries. You can register for SCONUL Access online here: http://www.access.sconul.ac.uk/sconul-access.

Indexes:

http://copac.ac.uk/ Allows you to search the catalogue of over 70 UK and Irish academic, national & specialist libraries.

http://www.worldcat.org/ Allows you to search the catalogues of over 10,000 libraries worldwide.

http://scholar.google.co.uk/ A division of the standard Google search engine that filters the search to bring back specifically academic results.

http://archnet.asu.edu/ A specialist archaeology subject gateway providing links to useful archaeological webpages.
http://www.biologybrowser.org/ Biology Browser brings together links to relevant scientific digital resources, primary scientific data sets, images, videos and specialist webpages.

http://worldwidescience.org/ A search portal that finds results in scientific databases from around the world.

Full Text Open Source Resources:

http://eprints.whiterose.ac.uk/ White Rose Research Online (WRRO) contains full text research outputs from the Universities of Leeds, Sheffield and York.

http://archaeologydataservice.ac.uk/ The Archaeology Data Service supports research, learning and teaching with freely available, high quality and dependable digital resources.

Social Media Sites:

http://academia.edu/ A networking site for academics. View other people’s work and follow their research interests.

http://addictomatic.com/ Trawls the web for the latest information via social media tools such as twitter, Google Blog, Word Press etc.